“Kamen is now producing one of the top cabernets in Sonoma.”

2006 Cabernet Sauvignon 93+

Kamen’s brilliant 2006 Cabernet Sauvignon is one of the more complete Cabernets I have tasted from that vintage. Beautiful blue and black fruit along with subtle background oak and floral aromas soar from the glass of this full-bodied effort. The wine possesses silky tannin (a good sign in this vintage), a layered mouthfeel, a long finish, and a pure, stylish, Margaux-like delicacy and complexity. It should drink well for 15-20 years.

From a well-run, small operation in Sonoma, these impeccably well-made reds are fashioned by the well-known wine consultant, Mark Herold.

2007 Cabernet Sauvignon 93+

The 2007 Cabernet Sauvignon reveals the vintage’s silky, elegant style with ripe tannins, beautifully pure black and blue fruits, medium to full body, and no hard edges. It is almost more evolved than either the 2005 or 2006, but the fruit purity is so admirable that the 2007 should turn out to be every bit as good as its two predecessors.
